The school will now be in the hands of Misses Howland and Miss Brownell, who have been with the school for the past twenty-three years.

COMENCEMENT PROCESSION ARRANGED

R. Cheney, Head Marshal

The marshals in the procession of faculty, alumni, and undergraduates on Commencement morning have been elected from the Class of 1918 by the Seniors and are led by R. Cheney, the Sophomore president. The Senior marshals, who arrange the seating, are M. Gardiner and V. Kandel. The Sophomore marshals are F. Flakes and M. O'Connor. The others are: F. Buffum, M. K. Stair, H. Hammer, T. Howell, M. Bacon, H. Butterfield, E. Atherton, L. Evans, D. Kuhn, K. Holliday, L. T. Smith, E. Richardson is to be head usher.

The groups in the procession in the order that they march from the Library are: the three undergraduate classes, 1919, 1918, 1917; the graduates and alumni; the Class of 1916, both the ex-members and those receiving A.B.'s, with the A.M.'s and the future Fellows; the resident Fellows of the College; the Faculty, Staff, and Trustees; and the presidents of prisons with President Thomas and President Wooley. Two or three marshals separate each group and the procession inverts so that the Seniors, marching between the other classes, enter the gymnasium first.

BACCALAUREATE MARSHALS

The procession for Baccalaureate was led by the Junior President, and Head Marshal, H. Harris. The Senior marshals were led by the Sophomore president, and Head Marshal, H. Harris '17. The other marshals were led by the Junior president, and Head Marshal, H. Harris '17. The Senior marshals were led by the Sophomore president, and Head Marshal, H. Harris '17. The other marshals were led by the Junior president, and Head Marshal, H. Harris '17.

Dr. Ross Preaches

Mystery is Subject

Dr. George A. Johnson Ross, of Union Theological Seminary, delivered the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class last Sunday evening in the Gymnasium. He took as his subject the mystery of life, and spoke of the present war as an example of such mystery.

He said, gives comfort, "but the text-book of religion, the Bible, leaves most questions unsolved and says least of what we most want to know. Upon the great trinity of sin, suffering and death, the Scripture does not have clear statements.

The War a Mystery

The War a Mystery in further elaboration of this idea, Dr. Ross discussed the present war. There are four ways of regarding it, he said—a great crime, a calamity unspeakable, a colossal folly, or "If you range your- selves with the most thoughtful people, as a great mystery which invades even the innermost recesses of our faith".

Compose Athletic Day Festivities

Athletic Day was triumphantly celebrated on Wednesday by a gaily costumed alumna procession, the Alumnae-Varsity basketball game, won to — by the Varsity, and the presentation of athletic cups, swimming medals and yellow ties. Dressed in every possible red, blue and green device of stripes and basket work hats, headed by the Varsity basketball team, the Athletic Board, and a band, the alumna marched from Penn Hall to the athletic field. There the teams met in a great field, in which the Varsity defeated the Alumnae 13 to 10.

First, Second, Third Team Cups Given

After the game M. Thompson '17, president of the Athletic Association, presented the individual and class athletic cups, the latter for first, second, and third teams. 1919 won first and second hockey cups, 1918 third. 1918 won the tennis singles cup and 1917 the doubles; the Individual College championship cup goes to M. Thompson '17. 1917 secured the Individual swimming cup. First and second water polo cups were 1919's and second 1917's. The track cup went to 1917 and the individual track cup to H. Harris '17. 1917 won first and second basket-ball cups, and 1918 third.

The high cost of cutting is a recognized fact. This year it has been demonstrated

The movement to cut the daisies at Commencement, a tradition of the Undergraduate Association, has not been considered lightly.

B. M. ALUMNLI COMMITTEE REPORTS ON FIRE CONDITIONS

Comments by New Republic

The Bryn Mawr Alumnae Committee on Fire Prevention has lately made a report on the conditions in the Gimbels Bros. in Philadelphia. This committee is working under the State Department of Labor and Industry.

"The New Republic", in commenting on this report in the issue of April 25th, says:

"A potential crime whose obvious cause is an apportionment of property as of greater value than human life. It is brought to light in the initial report of the Bryn Mawr Alumnae Committee on Fire Prevention. Gimbels Brothers store in Philadelphia, a ten-story unprotected structure, employing 5,000 persons, mostly women, children, and girls, has successfully defended the Fire Marshal act for years. The city has been quiet. Resolutions have been presented by the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade, and just recently by the Bryn Mawr committee. But enforcement of the law is complicated by the fact that more than one-half of the properties have not the adapted buildings belongs to the estates of old Philadelphia families. So the call is the menace that the insurance companies force surrounding property holders to pay approximately $100,000 super charges per annum.

F. KELLOGG "6 MAKES NOTABLE EXPERIMENTS ON EARTHWORMS"

Frederic Kellogg, '16, and Dr. A. R. Moore of the Biological Department at Bryn Mawr, have published an article in the Biological Bulletin for February enti-titled "Note on the Galvanotropic Response of the Earthworm," The article was written by Dr. Moore based on Miss Kellogg's experiments.

This article is based on experiments carried out at Bryn Mawr during the past year and is a discussion of the response of an earthworm to the action of an electric current, passed through a trough of water in which the earthworm was placed. Sections of the worm were found to act in the same way as the entire worm except that they did not make any progress toward the cathode. This experiment is an extension of those made by Bliss and Schweitzer. The drawings for the article were made by Mary C. T. Smith.

Two Types of Women Always Disdained

In the address directly to the Seniors, Dr. Ross said that there were two types of women who would always be disdained — the social flirt and the intellectual poseur. "Unless you are traitors to this College," he said, "these you will never be."

ALUMNIA NOTES

In connection with the Military and Naval Tournament at Beechwood Day, New York, Cynthia Wesson '09 won first place in the Archery Competition with a score of 144 in the Double Columbus Round and 831 in the Double National Round. The last score was 5 points better than the present national record.

Dorothy Weston '14, holder of the Curtis Woolfson Scholarship, is to be Girls' Worker at the Jan Hoss Neighborhood House in the Bohemian District of New York City.

Ann Riegel and Ella Riegel, both of the class of '09, have just returned from a tour of the West with the Congressional Woman Suffrage Speaks. The object of the trip was, if Congress failed to pass the suffrage amendment this session, to form a women's party at the Chicago Convention in order to force this amendment. The party met with a cordial reception throughout the West.

Willie Savage ex-26 was lately married in Frederick Turner of Overbrook, Pennsylvania. Mr. Turner is a graduate of Haverford College. They will live in Overbrook.

Last Saturday night 1915 had their reunion supper in Rockefeller, 1914 also had their reunion picnic, and 1911 also had their reunion of the University of Chicago. With five from 1903 on Tuesday evening.

In Fundamental Theorems Thayer said, "The object of the trip was, if Congress failed to pass the suffrage amendment this session, to form a women's party at the Chicago Convention in order to force this amendment. The party met with a cordial reception throughout the West."

The most radical changes in the courses for next year occurred in the English Department. Required English will be split up into five hour blocks, First Year Composition and Second Year Literature coming the first semester and Second Year Composition and First Year Literature coming the second semester.

By this plan the two semesters of Composition will be divided by two successive semesters of Literature, the Composition coming entirely in the first semester and the Literature entirely in the second semester of the first year and vice versa in the second year.

Professor Donnelly, as before, is head of the Department, and the Literature, and Professor Savage, in place of Dr. Creedall, is head of the Composition.

NEW PLANS RULING FACULTY

The new plans in regard to the ruling of the Board of Directors, Friday, May 18th, embody the three major changes in the place of Faculty and Alumnae. They are the result of investigations started by the Directors in January, with the answer of the American Association of Professors, while the press notices in the New York Times did not appear until April 12th. The new plan, as stated in the "Ledge" of May 20th,

"all members of the Board of Directors, except the president and vice-president, who shall be ex-officio members, shall be appointed for a term of three years, and shall hold office for two years and one year respectively. Members of this committee shall not be reappointed at the end of any three-year term until after one year shall have elapsed. This committee shall have the right to attend and take part in the discussion at all meetings of the Board of Directors unless by special request of the board, but shall have no vote.

"The president shall consult this committee before making any recommendations to the board of directors on reappointments or refusals of reappointments to the board of directors, but shall have no vote. Directors unless by special request of the board, but shall have no vote.

"All members of the committee are under consideration the other members of the committee may appoint a substitute of like rank to consider that particular case. Whenever practicable this committee is to be consulted as to initial appointments."

"Professors and associate professors appointed for indefinite terms shall be removed only after a conference between the Committee on Appointments and a committee of five directors, at which conference the president of the college shall preside, and only after the return of the findings of said conference shall have been made to the board of directors for consideration and action by it. All teachers of the above groups shall be entitled to have the charges against them stated in writing to have a fair hearing on the charges before this conference before its findings are reached.

"No attention was paid by the Board of Directors to the demand that the college be changed from what it has been charged as a "sectarian Quaker college"; that the trustees should not be restricted to members of the Society of Friends, and that faculty members should have advantage of the Carnegie Pension Fund.

ANIMAL PLATTSBURG FOR COLUMBIA

Plan for a Monthly Training Course

The committee which is carrying on the pro-preparedness campaign at Columbia has succeeded so well in already enrolling 325 alumni and undergraduates for the Plattsburgh training camp this summer, that it has decided to devote some attention to the naval aspects of national defense, and to establish a naval training camp corresponding to the five weeks' military drill at Plattsburgh in the Public Park. If so, the Monroe Club, fullback on the football team, is head of the committee which has been working on the plans.
