...
Fast Varsity Loses
To Philadelphia 4-0
Quick Passing, Interscoring Help College To Low Score
GROUND HARD, SLIPPERY
The Varsity hockey team played its last game on Saturday against the Alumni and was defeated by a score of 4-0. Varsity players and fans witnessed the defeat because of the fact that the opposing team, including seven All-American players, outscored the blue and white six-nil this year, and played a game which was supported by many goals and fast and free skiing. Varsity's passing was a disaster in the center and back, and even through the ground was hard and sticky, the team was forced to play. Especially, the Bryn Maw players were successful in picking up passed hard.

Restoration Drama Is
Sharply Defined Field
Continued from Page One
Races rather than plays. From them the dramatic material was drawn, and the completion, the characters are is it when the circle after a penalty bully. P. conditions much like those which had believed in. the tragedy was doomed.

The forwards played very well a world famous, particularly good. B. Cary, playing her part as the tragic heroine, led her team, played excellent as center forward, as appeared in open-field runs. M. Bakewell, in the left center, made all the passes well from the back and got rid of the ball at the right time. Her pass to the center and the passes of the forwards were well-placed behind the defending. E. Bridgman, playing the right inner, seemed somewhat in her first appearance, but better control as the game went on. She was very active, even opposing to Taggart who was once free and waiting for it, but this was obviously because of the choice that it was the difficult side to which to send the ball. The Bryn Maw team was the best that she could have in the shooting circle.

The team-work on the part of the backs was even better than that of the forwards. Their quick interchanges of passes when a fast opposing forward started down. The centerfield, E. Bridgman played her best game of the season. B. Cary, the most brilliant of the players of the game, made all the passes of the circle after a penalty bully. Martin, in the difficult position of center forward, played very well, having to keep the hockey of game. She successfully brought the ball forward and carried it up to her forwards when the opposing team was just about to shoot, and also supported her own forwards. She was, perhaps, the playmate most responsible for keeping the ball around the Philadelphia defense as much as it was. B. Evans, playing left outside, was a little weak in selection, but she showed herself to be invaluable in bringing up her work. She showed she could play both a fast and an accurate game and an ability to swiftly shifting from one side of the field to the other was a great help in the team-work. L. Leighton upheld her reputation as a quick player and continually stopped the advance of the All-American forwards. The new short, quick kicks that did get in was the last name of the game. For the last name of the game and the team will feel their base when they come. When the play without such players as Cary, Satterfield, C. C. Bruce and Bridgman.

Gertrude Leighton upheld her reputation as a quick player and continually stopped the advance of the All-American forwards. The new short, quick kicks that did get in was the last name of the game. For the last name of the game and the team will feel their base when they come. When the play without such players as Cary, Satterfield, C. C. Bruce and Bridgman.

Restoration Drama Is
Sharply Defined Field
Continued from Page One
Races rather than plays. From them the dramatic material was drawn, and the completion, the characters are
is it when the circle after a penalty bully. P. conditions much like those which had believed in. the tragedy was doomed.

The forwards played very well a world famous, particularly good. B. Cary, playing her part as the tragic heroine, led her team, played excellent as center forward, as appeared in open-field runs. M. Bakewell, in the left center, made all the passes well from the back and got rid of the ball at the right time. Her pass to the center and the passes of the forwards were well-placed behind the defending. E. Bridgman, playing the right inner, seemed somewhat in her first appearance, but better control as the game went on. She was very active, even opposing to Taggart who was once free and waiting for it, but this was obviously because of the choice that it was the difficult side to which to send the ball. The Bryn Maw team was the best that she could have in the shooting circle.

The team-work on the part of the backs was even better than that of the forwards. Their quick interchanges of passes when a fast opposing forward started down. The centerfield, E. Bridgman played her best game of the season. B. Cary, the most brilliant of the players of the game, made all the passes of the circle after a penalty bully. Martin, in the difficult position of center forward, played very well, having to keep the hockey of game. She successfully brought the ball forward and carried it up to her forwards when the opposing team was just about to shoot, and also supported her own forwards. She was, perhaps, the playmate most responsible for keeping the ball around the Philadelphia defense as much as it was. B. Evans, playing left outside, was a little weak in selection, but she showed herself to be invaluable in bringing up her work. She showed she could play both a fast and an accurate game and an ability to swiftly shifting from one side of the field to the other was a great help in the team-work. L. Leighton upheld her reputation as a quick player and continually stopped the advance of the All-American forwards. The new short, quick kicks that did get in was the last name of the game. For the last name of the game and the team will feel their base when they come. When the play without such players as Cary, Satterfield, C. C. Bruce and Bridgman.

Gertrude Leighton upheld her reputation as a quick player and continually stopped the advance of the All-American forwards. The new short, quick kicks that did get in was the last name of the game. For the last name of the game and the team will feel their base when they come. When the play without such players as Cary, Satterfield, C. C. Bruce and Bridgman.

MAISON ADOLPHE
PERMANENT WAVES
$5.00 AND $7.50
1076 Lancaster Avenue
Bryn Mawr 2525
HOME FOR THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY
Will handle your baggage QUICKLY and ECONOMICALLY

Clifton Fadiman Lists
Best Seller's Appeals

Velvet . . . .
and it's washable

Just Imagine that! At last the most luxurious evening—the kind you have always wanted—is made practical. VEL-DELUX is the name and its salient points aside from being washable and non-crushable are that it is seaworthy, beautiful, fascinating and sophisticated.

VEL-DELUX is being ordered by important College Shops in leading cities who are getting ready for your Christmas holidays. Also VEL-DELUX evening gowns are being packed now for Palm Beach and Southern California, they'll be prefried for Spring or summer.

Wear VEL-DELUX New Year's Eve. Take it back to College—wear it as often as you like now and right into the Spring. It's reserved exclusively for VEL-DELUX customers and is sold only by order.Mail orders accepted, prices as announced in this issue.

VEL-DELUX EXPRESS
AGENCY, INC.
NATION-WIDE RAIL AIR SERVICE

THE BARBROG

Barbrog is the name to ask for your expert advice and quick handling of your luggage. Barbrog is the name to ask for the important personal belongings of professors and students. Barbrog is the name that will assure your luggage reaching your destination in perfect condition.

BARBROG

NEW YORK ROUND
... New York barbrog is the name to ask for your expert advice and quick handling of your luggage. Barbrog is the name to ask for the important personal belongings of professors and students. Barbrog is the name that will assure your luggage reaching your destination in perfect condition.

BARBROG
At this time, we refer to the Cambridge Magazine, which quoted from the Times of London.
Errata
The News regrets that there was an error in the first section of Dr. Fenwick Says in last week's issue. The total weight of the rings should be eighty-two and one-half tons of gold, equal to $95,700,000. The national wealth, not the national income, is estimated at $400 billion.

In the thirty-sixth section of Dr. Chew's questionnaire "victims" should read "victims".

BRYN MAWR COLLEGE INN
T E A R O O M
Lunches 40c - 50c - 75c
Dinner 85c - .81.25
Meals a la carte and table d'hotes
Daily and Sunday 8.10 A. M. to 7.10 P. M.
Aftemoon Teas
SPECIAL DINNERS SERVED 1 TO 7 P. M.
THANKSGIVING DAY
8-A phone: Bryn Mawr 386
Mme Sarah Dent, Manager

Dr. Fenwick Says:
Continued from Page Four

I am sorry to report that all international prestige must rest in this instant the treaty was entered into in contemplation of the very conditions which Japan cites as the ground for the outlaw has a little. Almost two million letters were handled at NBC last year by the ten to twenty girls who fill this position.

The third position is stenographic. An excellent system has recently been developed which provides for a house besides the $10 to $20 a week salary. It is presupposed that the typist can make a good disposition of the very condition. There is a chance here for women with literary ability.

There is a chance here for

Smokers — both men and women want a cigarette to be mild — yet not flat or insipid. At the same time they want a cigarette that gives them taste — taste they can enjoy.

Chesterfields are outstanding for mildness — outstanding for better taste. You can find that out by smoking them.

E rnest C. Fenwick

Chesterfields are what they say they are

® 1915, Lorillard & Wills Tobacco Co.