In the language of your heart...
In the state of extra-curricular activities on campus today is one of astounding weakness. There is an elaborate and successfully advertised fraternity system which has assumed a type of pseudo-scholastic atmosphere. This has been largely due to the lack of student enthusiasm, respect, and support. We know this to be true because we have heard the League ask for more volunteers to be on hand. This is quite a definite political or ratting issue. But, of which the League should be to blame? This is obvious to everyone who has witnessed the activities of the Alliance. These activities are not being acted on. The Peace Council has never been made a success. Other campuses, however, have had a much better time in the smoking room. The Alliance should have been able to serve the purpose of furnishing the occasion - not the cause of great service to the student body.

Appreciation of Maids' Party
For Sorority Park Expressed
By W. B. V. R.
To the Editor of the College News:

The "Appreciation Party" given by the maids and porters last Thursday night was a most delightful affair. It was a wonderful entertaining feature of the evening, and it had a thoroughly good time. But it was more than a feast for the eyes. It was a spirit of good fellowship that was created among all of one's schoolmates. It made us in the audience -and surely I may speak for eth­ wa'z thousand other people- feel that we would like to show our appreciation of the "Appreciation" which inspired our hosts and entertainers.

But more even, it made me feel a deep pride belonging to the institution in which such par­ ticulars naturally occur. As a member of the faculty I should like to thank those porters for giving the party and inviting me in. And I also want to express my appreciation of the Theatre Players' Club in pleasant for important in experimental plays, the Stage Guild solicit hands-almost every club has found its mem­ bership small.

Energies are not being diverted toward defense; they are not being used at all. People decline positions, refuse to try out for activities and then spend their time in the smoking room. The excuse that the campus activity system has been designed to prevent the exact opposite and stimulate the excuse that the campus activity has been directed toward war work.

Those who take an active part in extra-curricular activities, even though they are not aware of the fact, are now being asked to do something for the war effort. This is a very real and definite problem. One can only hope that the students will be willing to go along with the war effort.

The Dance Club seems to have taken up the challenge of the united nations and the French for the war effort. They have been making a very hard struggle and the international issue is of great importance to the peace fighters. Germany has not made much of a move toward ending the war. The German government has persistently refused to yield in the war against the Allies. They have failed in their efforts. Thus the German government is comparatively living.

Before Women Can Serve a vital purpose in the battle for victory, they must be trained. The Volunteer Land Corps, which is being established in Vermont, is one organization which is trying to meet this need. Students who work under this scheme will in all probability be used at the front, but there is also a need at home. Work Camps, the Angli-Cian Friends Service Committees, and straight farm jobs give you an opportunity to do this sort of work in any part of the country where you may live. Even if you work for only a month or six weeks, you will be of use.

For many, the wisest way to spend the summer will be in getting further training along some particular line. Business courses may not sound appealing, but a college trained woman who has all the need for women who will work

Theatricals of Jeanne d'Arc were arranged in 12 tableaux, from which Madame Pitzoff read excerpts. The greats of the chateau of Jeanne was revealed in her replies, while the comedy of the character of Jeanne appeared almost comic, as Madame Pitzoff interpreted her speeches.

The most stirring part of the reading was Jeanne's prayer as she was about to go to the stake. Here,

Madame Pitzoff demonstrated her mastery of the emotional undertones of French.

Labor School Offers Valuable Opportunity

Rhode, April 21.—"Students who want to work in industry can obtain a good idea of worker psychology and what workers think about the war by coming to Hudson Shore," said Mrs. Marie Alnor, director of the Hudson Shore Labor School.

A summer at the school, she added, is also valuable to the undergraduate interested in government bureau work. You can "get a sense of the war effort. You can learn what workers think and want to work in Industry can find your suppressed desires fulfilled. See Connie Lane and let her launch you on the career of a drug store cutter."
