Convocation and First Classes: Mark Orientation’s End
For 192 Bryn Mawr Freshmen: Parade Night Remains

Academic Year Starts With Total of 670 Undergraduates

The 74th academic year of Bryn Mawr College opened this morning with a convocation address in Goshen by President Katharine E. McFibrew. This year’s total enrollment, Miss McFibrew announced today, is 636, the highest in the history of the college. Of this number, however, only 683 are regular students, and the remainder 33 are high school teachers of physics enrolled in an in-service program by Dr. Walter C. Mifflin of the Department of Physics.

The graduate school has 205 students, and the undergraduate school 601, although of these only 661 are currently on campus. The 1962 freshman class, however, is still the larger, though the first-year away from college and the seniors are still high. There are 131 members of the class of 1959; 166 of 1960; and 192 of the class of 1961.

Crowded living conditions for freshmen are a result of a larger number of prospective’s having returned than predictions based on previous percentages had allowed.

Freshmen not placed in the halls are living in the College Inn, in Bohan Annex, and with members of the faculty.

Freshmen along with upperclassmen had their first meeting with the academic classes this morning after an orientation program of interviews, teas and tours which began on Thursday of last week, and culminated with Miss McFibrew’s reception of freshmen at her home on Sunday. Meetings and introductions to various aspects of campus life will continue for the freshmen, however, both officially and unofficially from tonight’s "Parade" until the production of the 1963 Freshman Show in February.

B.M.C. To Enlarge Yet Remain Small

Although entering freshmen are aware that they are now part of a small college community, many may not realize that this smallness is the result of a deliberate decision. The college administration believe that this feature is a result of the college’s position between two large institutions and its location in a smaller community.

1. The campus is small, and the administration believes that this factor contributes to the sense of community among the students.

2. The college is located in a small town, which provides a sense of security and belonging.

3. The college is well known for its close-knit community, which is reflected in the relationships between students and faculty.

4. The college is well known for its close-knit community, which is reflected in the relationships between students and faculty.

5. The college is well known for its close-knit community, which is reflected in the relationships between students and faculty.

The college administration believes that these factors contribute to the college’s smallness, and they are committed to maintaining this feature in the future.

German, French Theatre Reviewed by Summer Correspondent Abroad

by Louis Pottier, '61

Paris, in the early part of June, a scene was observed in the city of Paris, where a crowd of enthusiastic spectators assembled to watch the performance of the famed French theatre group, Les Compagnons de la Danse. The theatre was packed with people, who were eager to see the latest production by the renowned troupe.

In a small, ornate theatre, the audience was treated to a performance that was both uplifting and moving. The actors, dressed in traditional attire, brought to life the story of a young girl who, through perseverance and hard work, overcame the challenges of her life.

The production was a resounding success, with the audience cheering and applauding at the end. The troupe was congratulated for their excellent acting and the overall production, which was a true representation of French culture.

The theatre continued to attract large crowds throughout the summer, with each performance receiving rave reviews. The troupe's commitment to their craft and their dedication to the art of theatre was evident in every performance.

We were in Germany for most of the summer, and the experience would have been much different if we hadn't taken a break from the hustle and bustle of the city. It was a great opportunity to see the beauty of the countryside and to experience a different culture.
Undergraduate Association
by Maia MacVaugh '59, Undergrad President

Last year the Undergraduate Association initiated many new projects in order to better serve the students and improve the floor of Goodhart. It provided an attractive space for social activities, set up a new housing administration and organized many of the community's activities. This year, more than in any year before, the Council is organized and will continue its efforts.

The Council, composed of the President of Self-Govern, Undergrad, League, Alliances, Interfraternity, and Catholic and Jewish Religious Organizations, appointed this year's President, Maia MacVaugh, on Tuesday, March 8th, by a vote of 9 to 2. Mrs. MacVaugh, last year's President, will continue to hold the offices of Vice-President and Secretary.

The Council has recently added one new position to its organization: the charging of admission for Lanthi and College Theater, the National Student Association and the election system to name a few.

In several weeks, the freshmen will continue on Page 5, Col. 1.

League
by Lynne Kaplan '59

As you know from your Freshmen Handbook, there are many independent groups on campus that encourage and coordinate student activity in the field of social services. In the coming year we will look to expand the League program in an attempt to broaden the scope of the organization.

For a long time the specific services available under the umbrella of the League, these activities are run by groups that were not under the council's umbrella, will continue to be offered. Each group has a different one which will offer more stimulating, productive activity. In addition, for a few hours each week, we will continue to provide an opportunity for groups to meet and discuss nationwide problems of interest. Any groups which are interested in attending these meetings, and League speakers as well, will be welcome at our informal sections which are sometimes in your field and of concern to certain conditions both social and personal. It is our intention to inform many of the Philadelphia area's specific groups of the existence of the League and to welcome others to join our meetings.

The Self-Government Association will also be holding a meeting to talk about the possibility of merging the two organizations.

Our Main Objectives:
1. To provide a forum for discussion of wider issues.
2. To encourage participation in the local and national political scene.
3. To unite students of like-minded interests to further the interests of students in the Philadelphia area.

Arts Council
by Cathryn W. '59 in College

The Arts Council is a new organization, in effect, the first time it has met this year, we will provide the various independent groups of music and college chorus. The purpose of the Council is to be an independent group devoting itself to the promotion and culturing of the arts, the college and the community.

The Arts Council Executive Board is made up of the heads of several groups, including the Interfaith Association, the Interfraternity Council, and the College Chorus. The purpose of the Board is to meet and discuss the various musical activities of the college and community. The Board will then make recommendations to the Arts Council on how to improve the musical activities of the college and community.

The Arts Council has several functions:
1. To bring together the various musical activities of the college and community.
2. To promote the arts through various means, such as concerts, lectures, and recitals.
3. To provide a forum for discussion of musical issues.

Arts Council will meet in the future to discuss the possibilities of merging with other organizations and to plan future events.

Alliance
by Judy Minkin '59 in College

This year, as in the past, the Alliance is dedicated to the goal of making the Interfaith Association's (IA) name known in the Philadelphia area. The Alliance is composed of representatives from all Jewish organizations in the area, and is currently planning a number of events to promote the IA's goals.

One important event this year will be the Alliance's annual film festival. The festival will feature a variety of films, including traditional Jewish films, as well as newer films that address contemporary issues. The purpose of the festival is to promote understanding and tolerance among all religious groups.

In addition to the film festival, the Alliance will be participating in other events throughout the year. These events include various service projects, concerts, and lectures. The Alliance is committed to promoting the values of the IA, and to working towards a more inclusive and diverse community.

Selt-Government Association
by Youn-Chol Kim '60, A. President

The Selt-Government Association, or SGA, is the oldest women's organization for community living. These rules and regulations reflect the values of the individuals of the Association, and are designed to prevent the creation of a perfect world. The Student government will remain the same.

Announcement was made last May by Miss Katherine E. McBridge, President of Bryn Mawr College, of the appointment of the Philadelphia authorities. There is a Lodge Martin Donnelly Fel lowship for 1958-59, the award, made for distinction in writing, carries with it a stipend of $5000. Miss Donnelly was born in Jackson, Mississippi, and has lived most of her life at Bryn Mawr College. She is the author of several novels and many short stories, which have appeared in magazines, such as The Atlantic Monthly, The New Yorker, and Harper's. Her most recent publication was The Bride of the Illinoises (1959), a collection of short stories.

The O. Henry Memorial prize for the short story was twice awarded to Miss Donnelly. In May 1956, she received the Howells Medal of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, given every five years for the most distinguished work of American fiction published during that period, for her novel The Powder Heart. This novel was dramatized on Broadway.

The holder of the Donnelly Fellowship is expected to reside at Bryn Mawr for some part of the college year. She is asked in announcing the award, but has no academic duties, making it possible to devote the entire working time to creative writing or to presenting in the universities of the United States or the British Commonwealth.

FRESHMAN CIRCULAR

by Grethel Jameson '58

Freshmen year is better brick. Men are many and women fickle, it seems, and so it is.

One of the happiest aspects of music at Bryn Mawr is that it has been so completely integrated into the traditions which are such a vital part of the college; the class shows are musicals, and their hit tunes live after them; each class has its own elected songmistress; singing is a major part of such events as May Day and Parents' Day; warm evenings find the college flocking to "sing along" under Taylor tower; last year Night Pollution everyone with a little Greek; the Christmas steamship brings clever, even dinner in a beautifully covered synx by Sigman, and other musical events during the course of the winter.

The first in a series of performances by well-known artists and conductors. On Thursday evenings there is another series of performances by well-known artists and conductors. The opera was later drama titled on both the Philadelphia Symphony's Monday evening concert series, which features various artists and conductors. Bordering the Main Line only eleven miles west of Philadelphia is Bryn Mawr, a town largely named by the "she-who." Describing the town's orients, one finds that the town has the self-sufficiency of a small city (which may have prompted its naming). Lahavame we'll get down to your question...

When you reach "the town" (approximately Thirty-first Street and the nearby well-worn path), the ninth or so minute or so you've been getting your attention will be demanded from you. You may be asked to show your drawing, or your name, or your But should be avoided.

book reviews, some coverage of concerts, exhibitions and even more theatre.

In addition the editorial staff of the News expresses its opinion both on campus and general issues in its weekly editorials. These editorials take stands which are agreed upon by the five board members, though not necessarily by the members of the staff.

Thirdly, the News is open to all students, both as a vehicle of publicity or as an opportunity for expressing an opinion, either a counter to News opinion, or a general issue, and letters to the editor are welcomed and printed. The News is responsible for nothing which appears in its letters column.

Tryouts for the News are held twice a year, at the beginning of each semester. There are quite flexible in that they require three sample articles but the choice of topic and the type of article should reflect the area in which the candidate is most interested. We would like to see reviews of any type of event, news articles, interviews or other features, and especially criticism of the News. A meeting for further discussion of tryouts will be held during the next week in the News Room—the time will be announced later. If you are interested and have questions you may also ask any staff member for News information.

Tryouts will be read and considered galley. At this time we become either the chief support of SGA members, of our own coffee. All contributions or letters should be addressed to the editor on the Saturday before the week in which they are to be printed. We hope to see both you and your ideas before the end of the year.

that the club will welcome all swimming enthusiasts. Remember that experience is not necessary. Dance Club will also go on with its usual program which includes selections offered at Arts Night, and perhaps a more extensive program on one of the College weekends.

Rhoads Farm, only ten minutes away by bicycle, and Appleton Barn, located on the campus are both ideal locations for picnics, cook-outs and other activities. These are available to everyone who wishes to use them—simply by contacting the AA president.

During the school year we will again offer several movies and we may also present some special sports features, such as the film prepared by John Jay on Skiing.

Any ideas which you may have for activities or projects which will always be as welcome. The AA is here to serve the student body and we are glad to accept all suggestions. Each ball needs several representatives to AA meetings and they will be more than glad to hear from you.

umerous opportunities to fill positions of leadership and responsibility for the machinery of self-government and student activities must function whatever the size of the undergraduates body. With in a small college, also, campus issues come to the attention of the whole campus, and widespread discussion is feasible.

All the advantages of small classes and a large proportion of faculty to students, which Mrs. Marshall terms the luxuries of education will be maintained in the future. Students will still feel a part of the whole college, and not merely members of small campus groups.

Less tars

& More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER. CHANGE TO 12M AND GET 12M BOTH.

Such an improved filter end more taste! Yes, today's 12M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tar and more taste in the least cigarette. 12M's patented filtering process enables today's 12M to give you, puff by puff, less tars in the smoke than ever before. And 12M gives you more taste, better tinge than any other cigarette.

"Couldn't be done!" That's what they told Mr. Bell back in 1916. But where would three million college students be without the telephone... especially on a Saturday night? Today you can make a date, or talk to your folks, from practically anywhere... even from your own car.

Puff by puff.

Today's 12M gives you.

Light into that live modern flavor!
