1968

The College News, 1968-09-13, Vol. 55, No. 01

Students of Bryn Mawr College

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Follow this and additional works at: http://repository.brynmawr.edu/bmc_collegenews

Custom Citation

This paper is posted at Scholarship, Research, and Creative Work at Bryn Mawr College. http://repository.brynmawr.edu/bmc_collegenews/1273

For more information, please contact repository@brynmawr.edu.
Population Explosion
Hits BMC Campus

A freshman class of 196 students combined with about 598 students in the upper classes has brought an expected total undergraduate enrollment to 794 this fall. The increase in the student population has made it necessary to convert freshman suites into triples.

The class of 1972 includes students from 33 different states and seven foreign countries.

Although classes do not begin until Monday, Freshmen Week began on Thursday morning. The orientation period deleted appointments with Miss Marshall, various departments and tours and social events scheduled by the Freshmen Week Committee.

Two thirds of the Class of 1972 attended public high schools. The geographical distribution of the new class is: 46% from the mid-Atlantic region, 12% from the Southern states, 6% from the Western states, 13% from the Midwest, 1% from the far west and 9% from foreign countries.

There are four new foreign students this year. They are: Ayesa Etulul from Istanbul, Turkey, Angela Ulter from Yokohama, Japan, Miyamoto from Tokyo, Japan, and Geraldine Bech from Venezuela.

There are also several transfer students arriving this fall from abroad.

Mrs. Marshall on Leave; Mrs. Pruett Takes Over

Miss Painter (left) and Mrs. Pruett, the administration, join the Freshmen in Freshman Week.

Mrs. Dorothy Marshall, who has been Dean of the College since 1946, and Dean, Dean of Seniors, will be on leave first semester of the academic year.

During this time she will move into a new house which she has had built. Mrs. Marshall also plans a trip to Latin America. The trip, which she will make all during a month or six weeks will include visits to Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Columbia and Peru. She will return to her position here second semester.

During Mrs. Marshall's absence, Mrs. Pruett, Assistant Dean of the College who usually advises sophomores and juniors will assume the job of Dean of Seniors in addition to continuing her work with sophomores.

Miss Painter, who was in charge of the calendar last year, has been appointed Assistant Dean for the Class of 1972. The calendar has been transferred to Mrs. Westfall in the President's Office.

Miss Painter will be Dean for the Junior class and the College scholarship officer.

Miss Painter is looking forward to her appointment as a dean, "It should be a very interesting year," she commented.

Miss McPherson will continue as Dean of Freshmen. She also will be a dean for the six post-baccalaureate students arriving this year.

All three deans will be available to counsel the arriving freshmen this weekend.

3 Assistant Profs. Advance Research In U.S.A., Abroad

Vol. LIV, No.1 • BRYN MAWR, PA.
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1968

I-Campus legislature to decide main issues

Three assistant professors at Bryn Mawr College will be on leave during the 1965-66 academic year under a program inaugurated by the Faculty to provide research fellowships for younger members of the faculty.

Miss Audrey Barrett, assistant professor of biology, will spend the year at the Argonne National Laboratory in Illinois. Two other assistant professors will be going abroad. Charles M. Brand, in history, will be in Athens, Greece, and Robert L. Pasten, in English, will spend the year in London.

According to Miss McBride, "The leave, which is granted either in the fourth or fifth year of the professor's appointment to the faculty, is principally to give the young scholar the opportunity to advance his research." Faculty members applying for a year's leave will continue to receive fellowships from foundations or granting agencies as they have in the past.

Among the senior members of the faculty who will also be on leave from the College next year are Jay Martin Anderson, in chemistry, who will be at the University of Illinois; Morton E. Bitterman, in psychology, to the University of Minnesota; Isabella MacCaffrey, in English, to the Wistar Institute; and Mrs. Aellig Kipphardt, in Latin, who will deliver a series of lectures at Oberlin College.

Others going abroad are Richard Lattimore, in Greek, to Oxford University in England; Mrs. Isabelle MacCaffrey, in English, to the University of Cambridge; Mrs. Agnes KUrsopp Michels, in Latin, to the University of Lille in France.

The Rufus Jones Chair of Religious History at Bryn Mawr, which is the Rufus Jones Professor of History of Religion at Bryn Mawr

The Rufus Jones Chair of Religious History at Bryn Mawr was established at Bryn Mawr in 1965 as a memorial to the Quaker leader and philosopher, a trustee of the College for many years.

Dr. Koe, who will join the faculty this month, has recently been in Israel where he held a Guggenheim Fellowship for research in the Israeli Department of Antiquities. Dr. Koe, who holds a doctorate from Yale University, has been Professor of Near Eastern Studies at Drew University, in Madison, New Jersey. He is a collaborator with P. W. Yang of "Understanding the New Testament," which has been translated into Dutch, Chinese, Thai and German.

New Religion Prof joins BMC Faculty

Three major issues are currently under consideration by the Self-Gov executive and advisory boards and will be brought before the entire campus in a meeting of the legislature this fall.

At a meeting late Wednesday night, Self Gov once again took up the question of dancing on campus, abolition of the dress rule and 8 a.m. for second-semester freshmen.

No final resolutions on any of these matters had been reached by the termination of classes last spring.

As the Bryn Mawr Self-Gov constitution presently reads there are to be no misleading beverages on the campus. In a more initiated by a petition campaign last spring, consideration is being given to the possibility of permitting the use of liquor by 21-year-olds only in a specifically designated location on campus. Consideration is being given to the use of an area in the College Inn, 5th and 6th

There has also been talk by some students of allowing possession and consumption of tobacco by 21-year-olds only in their respective dorm rooms.

In the dress rule matter, regulations now allow pants to be worn anywhere except to classes.

Gym suits may be worn to class.

Consideration is being given to dropping the dress clause from the constitution altogether and letting the respective dorm rooms make the rules for their dorm rooms. Consideration is also given to the possibility of permitting the use of liquor.

Tall in it like it is.
Write for the NEWS.

Dr. Howard C. Koe, the New Testament scholar, has been appointed as the Rufus Jones Professor of History of Religion at Bryn Mawr

Dr. Howard C. Koe, the New Testament scholar, has been appointed as the Rufus Jones Professor of History of Religion at Bryn Mawr College.

Dr. Koe, who will join the faculty this month, has recently been in Israel where he held a Guggenheim Fellowship for research in the Israeli Department of Antiquities. Dr. Koe, who holds a doctorate from Yale University, has been Professor of Near Eastern Studies at Drew University, in Madison, New Jersey. He is a collaborator with P. W. Yang of "Understanding the New Testament," which has been translated into Dutch, Chinese, Thai and German.

WELCOME FRESHMEN
THE COLLEGE NEWS

Miss Painter (left) and Mrs. Pruett, the administration, join the Freshmen in Freshman Week.

Mrs. Dorothy Marshall, who has been Dean of the College since 1946, and Dean, Dean of Seniors, will be on leave first semester of the academic year.

During this time she will move into a new house which she has had built. Mrs. Marshall also plans a trip to Latin America. The trip, which she will make all during a month or six weeks will include visits to Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Columbia and Peru. She will return to her position here second semester.

During Mrs. Marshall's absence, Mrs. Pruett, Assistant Dean of the College who usually advises sophomores and juniors will assume the job of Dean of Seniors in addition to continuing her work with sophomores.

Miss Painter, who was in charge of the calendar last year, has been appointed Assistant Dean for a year. The calendar has been transferred to Mrs. Westfall in the President's Office.

Miss Painter will be Dean for the Junior class and the College scholarship officer.

Miss Painter is looking forward to her appointment as a dean, "It should be a very interesting year," she commented.

Miss McPherson will continue as Dean of Freshmen. She also will be a dean for the six post-baccalaureate students arriving this year.

All three deans will be available to counsel the arriving freshmen this weekend.

Three major issues are currently under consideration by the Self-Gov executive and advisory boards and will be brought before the entire campus in a meeting of the legislature this fall.

At a meeting late Wednesday night, Self Gov once again took up the question of dancing on campus, abolishment of the dress rule and 8 a.m. for second-semester freshmen.

No final resolutions on any of these matters had been reached by the termination of classes last spring.

As the Bryn Mawr Self-Gov constitution presently reads there are to be no misleading beverages on the campus. In a more initiated by a petition campaign last spring, consideration is being given to the possibility of permitting the use of liquor by 21-year-olds only in a specifically designated location on campus. Consideration is being given to the use of an area in the College Inn, 5th and 6th.

There has also been talk by some students of allowing possession and consumption of tobacco by 21-year-olds only in their respective dorm rooms.

In the dress rule matter, regulations now allow pants to be worn anywhere except to classes.

Gym suits may be worn to class.

Consideration is being given to dropping the dress clause from the constitution altogether and letting the respective dorm rooms make the rules for their dorm rooms. Consideration is also given to the possibility of permitting the use of liquor.

Tall in it like it is.
Write for the NEWS.
Welcome to Bryn Mawr, the best and the worst of all possible worlds. The dean who registers you welcomes you. So do the one hundred members of your philosophy class. Applebee and Lantern Night welcome you, and a fault and a fault it comes. And more importantly a rare experience welcomes you. But so does a bad case of lethargy.

Bryn Mawr is a world of extremes. There’s no middle ground here. It’s that or it’s awful. And it’s all up to you. That’s what they mean when they say, in the catalog that the Bryn Mawr girl should exercise an independent spirit. More than likely, you’ll switch from loving to hating, loving Bryn Mawr as frequently as the seasons change.

Individual attention abounds. The deans consoled as well as advise. But mass education has invaded Bryn Mawr. Some of your classes might as well be at Berkeley or even Taylor Hall.

Traditions also abound. Some, like Lantern Night are lovely. But others, like the hygiene lectures, are antiquated. They’re still around because, well, you know, “it’s just always been done that way”.

But large classes and hygiene lectures are just a smattering of the activities. They can be coped with. The real hurdle is lethargy. It plagues the campus like the black death. “But nothing ever happens here” gets muttered often after Taylor bell rings.

And of course it’s not true. Things do happen, but how and why and when they happen depends on what you want. There is very little you can’t do here, from working on an individual research project to dating every night, if you want to do it badly enough.

Don’t lie on the showcase sofa for four years. It’s not just a question of canvassing the Main Line for a brother, coming to campus to see a girlfriend or joining the French club or going to all most one mixer in a month or writing articles for the NEWS, although any of those activities are fine in themselves.

It’s a question of utilizing the opportunity to do or be anything you like (of course if you want to lie on the showcase sofa, that’s a different matter). Bryn Mawr girls rarely ask questions and that’s a shame. You’d be surprised at how much help you can get on the job and how much you can learn.

We hope Bryn Mawr is your best world at least half of the time.

Committee Chairmen
Welcome Freshmen

Dear Freshmen,

With fond homesickness we greet thee — not so much with joy as with hope that you’re healthy, rested, and ready for your freshman round of activities.

Please, do go everywhere and do everything that is planned for you. At least you’ll be offered something, and we hope that you’re healthy, rested, and ready to go.

Some meetings have been planned for freshmen; others have been planned strictly for juniors and seniors. But all has been planned for you, and we want you to go out and enjoy it.

The upperclassmen in your hall have competed fairly for the privilege of being here to meet you. So do not be fearful of asking any questions or of seeking advice. No question is a silly question, and all of your questions in no particular, are facts of wisdom.

Finally, we beg you to stand firm to those of the Delphic oracle in obscurity, hesitate not to ask the highest proportion of freshmen.

In short, don’t hold back — do everything, go everywhere, ask anything! This is your week, and the school welcomes you.

B.B.

Welcome ‘72

Student Remains Idealistic Despite Chicago Tear Gas

like thousands of other young Americans, I went to Chicago during the Democratic convention to work for Senator McCarthy. It was a strictly for fun task, and I only went because I hoped that democracy was like the people I knew, and that the people really did control the politics of the country.

What I saw and experienced in Chicago has made me feel that perhaps those who say that the political system is too corrupt to work within, that we are only deceiving ourselves and seeking an excuse in McCarthy are right. But my hope that democracy was like the people I knew, and that the people really did control the politics of the country.

He explained that although this might be an individual act, the repercussions would not be directed against individuals. The march then proceeded until they reached 16th Street where we were stopped and told that anyone who attempted to go further would be arrested. Gregory then talked down the row of demonstrators and advised anyone who was not willing to get arrested to leave. The police let 50 people go down the street and then arrested them. Among those arrested were Gregory and, supposedly, 16 delegates. Those of us who stayed expected to get arrested and I wondered several times during the evening that if this couldn’t be done then the police would have 5,000 people so they lashed us instead. Everyone turned and, in an attempt to escape, ran down an alley where we were arrested.

It was a perfect view of demonstrators, I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

It was really impressive how all those people were willing to keep going back and face the gas and not be turned around. The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.

The leaders of the march finally decided to be patient and go back towards the apartment, and the relative safety of the Hilton hotel which was the convention headquarters. As we reached the park we were tear gassed again. It seems strange to me that the police thought it would be easier to tear gas a large group than to arrest them.

Finally the night passed, but I felt horribly helpless — but I didn’t see it, neither was really Impressive how the police, but I didn’t see it, neither.
Grad Studies Offered
In History of Science

A new program leading to advanced degrees in the history and philosophy of science is being offered this fall in a joint project by Bryn Mawr College, the University of Pennsylvania and the American Philosophical Society, under an grant from the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation. The combined program will develop teaching and stimulate research in the history of the basic medical sciences, the practice of medicine and its social relations.

Two new faculty appointments have been made by Bryn Mawr and U. of Pennsylvania in the history of a science, Dr. Charles A. Culotta, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed in the history of biology and Dr. Arnold W. Thackray of Cambridge University, England, in the history of chemistry.

Other faculty members at Bryn Mawr who are working on the program are Jose Ferrater Mawr, who is working on the program which has so far this year awarded $1,167,500 to education and research in those fields.

This is the first such participation by the American Philosophical Society in adgepr-grading program, "and it is believed to be one of the first programs involving a learned society in the United States.

Saga Food Service Returns;
Promises Home-Cooked Meals

Saga Food service wears a casual yet competent face on campus these days. They are back for seconds, III seeming, having had us in '66 - '67, and they are now supplanting "Marrt of last year" Mighty Mo Brave.

When asked why they thought they were better equipped than others to meet the finicky demands of some of our more sensitive stomachs, they replied they had a "different type of system" than Marrt and worked on the individual kitchen theory to make the cooking "as close to home cooking as possible".

When pressed to describe a little of the home cooking idea, they answered calmly that all the colleges they serve have the same standard of food and menu. Furthermore the various meals are planned according to old approved menus based on broad surveys. They also stated without hesitation that they were the "only and largest all-college feeding company" which they went on to make it clear the only company to specialize solely in colleges and that they have the largest college business of any service. (262 colleges).

They also added, "Do you need Haverford?" Indirectly we need Haverford", said one man carefully from the back of the room.

They also were pleasant about the inn. Open Mon-Fri 9 a.m.-11 p.m., Sat. close at 5, Sun. open at night only. Charges, they said, with a $25 minimum and some form of identification. No more "11 cheeseburger, silly Joe Mouse, Pembroke East", they said. Perhaps they will be more sympathetic towards our schizophrenia later on the year.

Some other innovations will be a bullshit breakfast with hot food cooked to order, and a food committee with done reps for all student complaints. (Saga even applied for the job on the strength of student complaints; their spies had read about them in the NEWS.)

The Saga men were most agreeable and seemed especially tuned to mean they are "as Haverford?" as they answered calmly that all the student complaints; their spies had read about them in the NEWS.

When pressed to describe a little of the home cooking idea, they answered calmly that all the colleges they serve have the same standard of food and menu. Furthermore the various meals are planned according to old approved menus based on broad surveys. They also stated without hesitation that they were the "only and largest all-college feeding company" which they went on to make it clear the only company to specialize solely in colleges and that they have the largest college business.

Grad Students Offered
In History of Science

A new program leading to advanced degrees in the history and philosophy of science is being offered this fall in a joint project by Bryn Mawr College, the University of Pennsylvania and the American Philosophical Society, under an grant from the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation. The combined program will develop teaching and stimulate research in the history of the basic medical sciences, the practice of medicine and its social relations.

Two new faculty appointments have been made by Bryn Mawr and U. of Pennsylvania in the history of a science, Dr. Charles A. Culotta, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed in the history of biology and Dr. Arnold W. Thackray of Cambridge University, England, in the history of chemistry.

Other faculty members at Bryn Mawr who are working on the program are Jose Ferrater Mawr, who is working on the program which has so far this year awarded $1,167,500 to education and research in those fields.

This is the first such participation by the American Philosophical Society in adgepr-grading program, "and it is believed to be one of the first programs involving a learned society in the United States.

Saga Food Service Returns;
Promises Home-Cooked Meals

Saga Food service wears a casual yet competent face on campus these days. They are back for seconds, III seeming, having had us in '66 - '67, and they are now supplanting "Marrt of last year" Mighty Mo Brave.

When asked why they thought they were better equipped than others to meet the finicky demands of some of our more sensitive stomachs, they replied they had a "different type of system" than Marrt and worked on the individual kitchen theory to make the cooking "as close to home cooking as possible".

When pressed to describe a little of the home cooking idea, they answered calmly that all the colleges they serve have the same standard of food and menu. Furthermore the various meals are planned according to old approved menus based on broad surveys. They also stated without hesitation that they were the "only and largest all-college feeding company" which they went on to make it clear the only company to specialize solely in colleges and that they have the largest college business.

Grad Students Offered
In History of Science

A new program leading to advanced degrees in the history and philosophy of science is being offered this fall in a joint project by Bryn Mawr College, the University of Pennsylvania and the American Philosophical Society, under an grant from the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation. The combined program will develop teaching and stimulate research in the history of the basic medical sciences, the practice of medicine and its social relations.

Two new faculty appointments have been made by Bryn Mawr and U. of Pennsylvania in the history of a science, Dr. Charles A. Culotta, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed in the history of biology and Dr. Arnold W. Thackray of Cambridge University, England, in the history of chemistry.

Other faculty members at Bryn Mawr who are working on the program are Jose Ferrater Mawr, who is working on the program which has so far this year awarded $1,167,500 to education and research in those fields.

This is the first such participation by the American Philosophical Society in adgepr-grading program, "and it is believed to be one of the first programs involving a learned society in the United States.
Sophomore Reminiscences

As a freshman, you walk up to the foreboding gray building, which, you have been informed, is to be your "home-away-from-home," and hope no one will notice the wrinkle on the seat of your new skirt.

Out of the sea of strange faces someone asks you your name and hastily pins on a name tag. But you have learned that that "home-away-from-home" bit is a T-shirt. Your roommate has the same suspicions as you and quickly throws on a "boma-away-from-home" bit. Where do they all come from? What wisdom do they have to tell you? You believe you are a martyr and that you can unpack by yourself. As you step into the sea of strange faces, you will terrify them with stories of freshman comps every Saturday.

Thursday - Curriculum Committee meeting, 1:30 p.m.
Arts Council meeting, second floor of the Ian; 6:30 p.m.

See your name in print. Write for the NEWS

Jane Harrold
Martha Pennington

BRYN MAWR RECORDS
VISA CARDS HONORED
Every Type of Classical, Psychedelic, and Folk Record
8 Track and Cassette Tapes
1026 Lancaster Avenue, Bryn Mawr
527-1175

An Art Center Will Open
Imn Basement Mon., Sept. 23rd

Something New - In Your Wardrobe?

FROM ALL CONTINENTS THE GARB HAS GARMETS TO FIT YOUR BODY AND ACCESSORIES TO CREATE A LOVELIER YOU

Peasant Garb
800 Lafayette Ave. 1082 Franklin St.
Bryn Mawr

Any Pretty Geography in Your Wardrobe?

Freshman Finding List

Below is a list of the class of 1972, according to dorm assignments. Phone numbers for the Norms are in the Freshman Handbook. Upperclassman can usually be reached through the dorm listed in last year's finding list.

Merion Hall
Baum, S.
Glover, C.
Gornley, D.
Jacobs, R.
Jenson, J.
Johnson, J.
Kline, E.
Levine, J.
Melech, L.
Mittelmen, N.
Pang, M.
Petty, P.
Poddubski, M.
Savenon, E.
Thompson, J.
Willkinson, D.

Radnor Hall
Albers, A.
Allerve, C.
Anderson, S.
Blum, R.
Cash, H.
Dasak, E.
Dekker, A.
Friedman, C.
Friedman, J.
Handley, J.
Hunt, P.
Kitchin, E.
LaFlina, K.

LV, A.

Ludwig, McRoberts, M.
Morrone, V.
Octrow, Z.
Potter, T.
Sanburns, B.
Shackle, E.
Torr, A.
Tockosky, J.

Deborah Hall
Bernholtz, C.
Chadwick, D.
Crowy, T.
Cudby, J.
Fedarko, C.
Gelege, L.
Grumert, A.
Hofmann, B.
Kolma, W.
Loom, M.
Loer, K.
Nobili, E.
Sabelske, B.
Seidman, M.
Schaufler, R.
Schenk, L.
Schubert, A.
Scott, V.
Speckter, K.
Tordiglione, C.
Travis, J.

Pembroke East
Ballard, M.
Blumenthal, N.
Hediger, G.
Kidd, S.
McCloskey, M.
Curdy, S.
Morrow, M.
Mayer, L.
Mee, R.
Norman, M.
Nutter, J.
Sherman, K.
Smith, P.
Smith, S.
"The Goyo Goykgy, K.
"The Goyo, C.

Pembroke West
Alimone, M.
Alberts, M.
Andrews, S.
Bakem, D.
Barden, M.
Berthot, P.
Costello, P.

Rockefeller
Angel, C.
Atkinson, K.
Bedell, S.
Bernard, M.
Black, M.
Brand, E.
Burhan, P.

Rhodes North
Anastassio, T.
Des, K.
Easton, J.
Gaudian, L.
Holluck, D.
Levy, Y.
Perun, D.
Rosen, D.
Thomas, C.
Wolf, S.

Rhodes South
Barton, J.
Darby, C.
Frasen, P.
Casher, J.
George, A.
Hathaway, A.
Hoyker, M.
Jackoway, J.
Kail, B.
Karfman, J.
Kolmar, M.
Kochman, L.
Laird, C.
Lazer, K.

See your name in print.
Write for the NEWS

Jane Harrold
Martha Pennington

BRYN MAWR RECORDS
VISA CARDS HONORED
Every Type of Classical, Psychedelic, and Folk Record
8 Track and Cassette Tapes
1026 Lancaster Avenue, Bryn Mawr
527-1175

An Art Center Will Open
Imn Basement Mon., Sept. 23rd

Those Interested in Pottery Classes
A Place to Paint Anytime
A Place to Saw

PLEASE COME to a
MEETING - THURS. 5:00 - 11m - 2nd Fl.

ANY PRETTY GEOGRAPHY IN YOUR WARDROBE?

FROM ALL CONTINENTS THE GARB HAS GARMETS TO FIT YOUR BODY AND ACCESSORIES TO CREATE A LOVELIER YOU

Peasant Garb
800 Lafayette Ave. 1082 Franklin St.
Bryn Mawr

Any Pretty Geography in Your Wardrobe?